

Welfare Aid Is Charity — Let's Keep
It Honest Charity

There is a difference between pensions and charity — a big difference.

But that a great many Arkansians are confused was indicated by State Welfare Commissioner A.
J. Moss in a speech before a Little Rock service club (Kiwanis) this week. Half the problems of the State Welfare Department would be solved, he said, if we could only correct the public's notion that everyone is automatically entitled to state welfare aid on becoming 65 years old.

Of course that notion's not true.
The public is confusing the state program with the federal Social Security retirement plan, which is an earned pension. For instance, the people employed by this newspaper have 2 per cent deducted from their payroll checks every week, and the newspaper company contributes another 2 per cent — making a total contribution of 4 per cent of the payroll to the Social Security old-age annuity system. When Social Security-covered folks become 65 and claim a pension they are only claiming what they and their company have paid for, and only to the extent that it is paid for.

But the welfare rolls of the state are public charity — no less — supported by taxes paid by all the people — principally the state sales tax.

Charity is something that is given — not something that is claimed as a legal right. And how the public tax funds are given out to the aged poor is sharply limited by law.

Commissioner Moss pointed out in his speech that there is no magic in the age of 65 where applicants for public charity are concerned. They have to be shown to be in actual need.

Because of the heavy overloading of Arkansas' welfare rolls — half of the 164,000 who are 65 or older are getting aid, a much higher percentage than in other states — the legislature cracked down with a new law in 1953 to make relatives help, when able, to take care of their old folks.

Commissioner Moss, however, comes up with a disheartening statement. He says his department has found that:

"Old people would rather take money from the state than from their children. Some children often give grudgingly." It's disheartening because this is grim evidence of the decay in the moral stamina of the American people — a resolute and independent people who used to go to great lengths to avoid accepting public charity or owing any obligation to the government.

But it has absolutely no bearing on the administration of the State Welfare Department. Old folks with children who are self-supporting are required to look to them for help, because otherwise the old folks who have neither kith nor kin and are truly helpless would be abandoned — yet they are the prime objective for which the State Welfare Department was set up and for which all of us pay taxes.

Remembering that this is charity and not an earned pension plan — let's keep it honest charity — so that their will be money enough for those who are old and have absolutely no one to turn to.

No Test Vote on Bricker Amendment

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said today there will be no key test votes on the Bricker amendment dealing with treaty powers until Feb. 15 or later.

The hotly controversial issue is being put aside to simmer all next week while the Senate turns to other matters.

Knowland told newsmen he thought the delay would be healthy in giving the country a chance to be heard from further.

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) author of the original proposal fought determinedly by President Eisenhower appeared to his followers to make known their backing for a modified plan he unveiled yesterday.

This revised proposal makes big concessions but still is far more sweeping than anything the administration has indicated it would accept.

Knowland had been trying to dispose of the Bricker proposal this week. It has been before the Senate for two weeks of debate while repeated efforts were made — without success — to compromise.

Knowland said in advance of today's session it might be possible to adopt two minor amendments to the Bricker proposal at this afternoon's session. But he added there will be no important rollcall tests until the week after next.

The week's delay is forced by the plans of many GOP senators to leave Washington for Lincoln Day speeches next week.

City Council Committee Meets Costly

By PAUL H. JONES

The rising cost of city government is reflected in a current trend of the administration to shift affairs to committees for recommendations and decisions.

During the past two years committee meetings have cost the city a total of $3,435 while regular salaries of aldermen amounted to only $4,800.

Actually the trend was started during the administration of Mayor Lyle Brown but the present administration apparently has gone all out for the idea. Previously committees did meet and investigate but it was a rare thing indeed when members received pay for those meetings.

During 1951 committee meetings cost the city $880; 1952 the amount was $1,745 and last year $1,690, this all in addition to regular salaries.

Shortly before the end of 1953 the council voted itself a wage increase of 100 per cent, from $25 to $50 per month. The wording of the ordinance to raise the salaries fails to mention any payment for committee meetings, whether intentional or an oversight remains to be seen. Possibly the cost of committee meetings might be eliminated by the wording of the ordinance which reads:

"The Aldermen of the City of Hope, Arkansas shall each receive as full compensation for his service as such alderman Fifty Dollars per month and $5 for each special meeting." Nowhere are committee meetings mentioned.

A three-year breakdown on what each alderman received and the number of committee meetings for which he was paid, follows:

Aldermen	Total Amount Received	Number of Committee Meetings

Advices Wives to Do Things for Their Husband and He'll Appreciate Them Much More

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Many thoughtful wives today are asking themselves, "What can I do to show my husband how much I appreciate him?"

"Honey," she told him, "after you're gone, I want you to know you'll be in good company. There isn't a better location in the whole cemetery, and I want to tell you from my heart that I feel there isn't a man in town who has earned it more than you."

Well, this particular husband was so touched by this evidence of his wife's solicitude he broke down and cried, and later went out and bought her a fur coat.

However, all husbands are not as high class as this man.

What can a conscientious wife

Civic Organizations Team to Raise Funds to Send Young Hope Singer to Special School

At a meeting here yesterday heads of civic organizations and school officials mapped a campaign to raise $900 to send David Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Pearson, to Florida where he will become a member of the Apollo Boys Choir of Palm Springs.

Young David was awarded a $900 scholarship by placing third in a national trout. A year's scholarship is $1,800.

The private owned school which rates as one of the best in the nation takes youths from 9 to 14 years of age and train them. Besides academic work the school offers special voice training, piano which all are required to take, a six weeks encampment during the summer and a tour of the nation with the choir in the winter.

Of moderate means, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson are unable to send David to the school. So the city must do it.

Saturday night starting at 7:30 p. m. KXAR will hold a "David Pearson" hour. Young Pearson will sing several times on the program which will include various talent from this area.

During this hour representatives of civic organizations will be on hand to pick up contributions from local citizens who telephone the radio station telling the amount of their donations.

If enough money is raised David will fly to Florida Sunday where he will enter the school. Otherwise, he cannot attend.

Nighbors Rally to Aid Fugitive

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Alex R. Bryant, 43, was listed as one of the FBI's 10 most wanted fugitives before his recent capture. But now nearly 100 neighbors and business associates want him.

They want him to stay here with his wife and baby in the suburban cottage on Mt. Washington, where his attorney says Bryant has led an exemplary life for nearly two years.

The wife, Mrs. Gladys Lawson, says the 100 friends and neighbors have signed two petitions to Gov.
Goodwin J. Knight asking him to deny a request for extradition.

Mrs. Lawson married Bryant 18 months ago under his assumed name, Edward Lawson. She still insists on using the name Lawson.
They have a daughter, 5 months old.

Bryant escaped from Michigan State Prison in January 1952 after serving 22 years of a life sentence for series of robberies committed in 1929, when he was 24 years old.
Prior to that he had served a reformatory term on a rape charge.

Mrs. Lawson said yesterday a lot more signatures are anticipated, and added: "I think he is beginning to feel a little hope. He was so hopeless before."

"We the undersigned," reads one of the petitions, "believe that Ed Lawson should go free after he has been free for two years and has obeyed all the laws. We are the people he would have to live among and feel he is perfectly safe. We are all mothers and fathers and we feel our children are as safe around him as in our own living rooms or our own arms."

Bryant, after his escape, came West and got a job as a truck spotter for a trucking firm. He met Gladys and married her in Las Vegas, Nev. He never told her anything about his prison past. The first, she heard of it was from newsmen, after the law caught up with him Jan. 26.

Federal officers arrested him on fugitive warrant from Michigan.
He was arraigned Wednesday and remanded to the sheriff to await extradition.

Condition of Pope Reported 'Weakened'

By ROBERT E. JACKSON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A medical bulletin acknowledged today that Pope Pius XII had been "further" weakened by a stomach ailment but reassured the anxious faithful that all other tests had produced only "normal results."

Observances Romano semi-official Vatican newspaper published the bulletin which it said was issued only because of the anxiety and numerous injuries about the pope's health from "every corner of the world."

It obviously was designed to dispel rumors that the pope suffered from an illness more serious than gastritis.

There has been rumors that he might be suffering from cancer and that he had serious liver trouble.
"There is absolutely no cause for new alarm," high Vatican sources added.

Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi said the 77-year-old pontiff was suffering from the symptoms of gastritis and had a slight fever. He said the pope's condition was weakened because he has difficulty in taking nourishment.

Wife Slayer Is Shot to Death

HARRISON (AP) — A 51-year-old Tulsa man, charged in Oklahoma in the hammer-murder of his wife, was shot to death near here last night in a pistol duel with a state trooper.

Trooper Bill Strubbing identified the man as Marvin Huff sought by Tulsa police since Dec. 30, when the body of his 37-year-old wife, Evelyn, was found locked in a closet at her home. She had been beaten to death. Mrs. Huff's 12-year-old daughter by a previous marriage discovered the body.

Misunderstanding, Library Claims

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (UP)— State officials who stamped Hans Christian Andersen "for adults only" weren't trying to protect the kiddies from the immoral Danish story-teller they said today.

They were protecting Andersen from the children.

A spokesman for the state library said a 100-year-old volume of Andersen's classic fairy tales was stamped to save from the grimy fingers of grade school youngsters.

That didn't explain why the state library also gave the red ink treatment to "Filgrim's Progress," "20,000 Leagues Under The Sea," "Alexander Botts The Tractor Salesman" and many other books, many of them classics like Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice."

But there was an explanation.
In fact several of them.

Plant Layoffs Blamed for Unemployment

By VINCENT J. BURKE

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Labor Department disclosed today that 380,000 factory workers were laid off between mid-December and mid-January, the sharpest seasonal employment decline in five years.

This reduced manufacturing employment to 16,100,000, or 771,000 below January, 1953. Nevertheless, except for a year ago it still was the highest level for January in the entire post World War I period.

Ewan Clague, Commissioner of Labor Statistics, made the disclosure to a Senate-House committee which is exploring economic prospects. The Census Bureau last week reported January unemployment at 2,389,000. However, Clague's report was the first statistical breakdown of manufacturing employment.

Clague and officials of two other agencies were called to explain their methods of computing labor statistics.

American Wins Grim Game With Reds

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A triumphant young American named John Havesta heads home by plane today, the winner in a grim attack-and-mouse game with the Communist regime of Czechoslovakia that lasted five fantastic years.

First a prisoner, then a fugitive, then a refugee sheltered for four months in the U. S. Embassy in Prague, the 16-year-old Czech-born U. S. Navy veteran started catching up on freedom when a State Department car whisked him through the Iron Curtain at the Czech-German border yesterday.

The full story of at least one phase how he bounced from pillar to post as a hunted man in Czechoslovakia for 21 months, always one step ahead of his Red pursuers — may never be publicly told. It could touch off a reign of terror against the anti-Red Czechs who sheltered him.

Like AF Correspondent William M. Oatis, freed from Czech imprisonment last May 17, Havesta was accused by the Red regime of espionage. He was sentenced to 10 years. He had served 2 1/2 years when he took part in a five-man break from Leopoldov Prison near Bratislava early in 1952. Then came his 21 months as a fugitive and four months in the Prague embassy, technically American soil, while diplomats dickered over his fate.

The Prague radio, skipping the details, reported he had been "released and ordered, expelled."

Russia Fears a Free Election, Dulles Accuses

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

BERLIN (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, denouncing the Russian plan for German unification told the Berlin conference today Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov is trying to extend the Kremlin's power to the Rhine.

Dulles said Molotov had elected a western plan for unification of Germany through free elections because he is afraid that the 18 million Germans in the Communist zone "would overwhelmingly reject" its present Red regime.

"Mr. Molotov has good reason to be afraid," the American minister said.

Dulles led off the Western attack on the Molotov plan, which he said follows the "tragic pattern" by which the Soviet Union has spread Communist control over Eastern Europe since the War.

Dulles said Britain's Anthony Eden, France's Georges Bidault and he had come to Berlin two weeks ago hoping that "solutions would be found to the problem of German unity" in a conference which at the outset carried "the promise of easing world tensions."

But he said, the Molotov program which the Russian minister put before the conference yesterday shows that "he has no intention of seriously seeking German unity with freedom."

"I would say to Mr. Molotov, Dulles declared, "that is 15 years but not too late to redeem the promise of Berlin."

One Killed in B&O Wreck in Delaware

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The Baltimore & Ohio railroad's New York-New York Flyer, the National Limited, sideswiped a freight train five miles south of Wilmington today, derailing 10 of the 13 passenger cars.

A B&S spokesman in Baltimore said the engineer of the freight train, W. A. Jackson, of Philadelphia, was killed and six train crewmen were hurt, but passengers were injured.

The railroad men hurt were injured as three workers in a passenger car, a brakeman, a mechanic and a cook.

Wilmington general hospital said it had received six accident cases from the wreck. All railroad personnel were seriously injured.
The National Limited was enroute to Philadelphia, approximately 10 minutes after the collision at 8:45 a. m. (EST).

All the cars of the passenger train remained upright. A freight train, the Chesapeake and Delaware, was stopped at the ending of the National Limited approximately 10 minutes after the collision.

Mental Patient Suicide

LEWIS BLUFF (A) — A former mental patient shot himself to death here today as police closed down the house of a doctor who had threatened to kill him.

Police Chief Met Gallagher said that Lewis Bluff, 65, a retired machinist, placed a 32 caliber gun in his temple and took his own life.

Gallagher said Williamson was living on the front seat of a car owned by Dr. Charles W. Reid. The car was in the doctor's garage.

Reid said Williamson was a former mental patient and had made threats to his life.

Reid said Williamson had a "manic-depressive psychosis" and was "very violent." He said the doctor should never have released him from the State Hospital at Little Rock.

Police went to Dr. Reid's house early today on a tip from (A) Dr. J. H. Harkins, who told them that he had let an armed man out of the house.

A squad car in the vicinity was called to the house.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK (A) — The stock market started higher with a rush today and then simmered down quietly.

Trading at the start was so heavy that the ticker fell behind a couple of minutes in reporting actual floor transactions. The congestion soon cleared.

With the big rush of overnight orders out of the way, the market turned quiet and began to back down from its best. Minus signs gradually appeared in key sections of the list.

Lindbergh Is 52-Years-Old Today
By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (A) — Charles A. Lindbergh half-forgotten for years is 52 today, and the birthday finds a reawakened interest in the man, the engine, the contradiction.

The younger generation those who never knew the thrill of Lindbergh's solo flight from New York to Paris in 1927, is reading of his exploits in his autobiography. Seized in a magazine last year a fuller version in book form has become a best seller. Reports are that the Lindbergh story has been sold to the films for more than a million dollars.

Only last week the man himself emerged from a Garbo-like seclusion of more than four years, made a rather unusual speech, smiled, shook hands, and then retreated again to his Darien, Conn., home.

Lindbergh has managed to make himself so unknown to the public that he can — and does — get away where these days without being recognized.

Last week for example he and Mrs. Lindbergh walked into the Astor Hotel on New York's teeming Times Square, registered and went to their room, with no one giving them a second look.

He had come to address the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences and to receive the institute's Daniel Guggenheim Award for "pioneering achievements in flight and air navigation."

Little Rock Prime Target for A-Bomb LITTLE ROCK (A) — Administrator Val Peterson of the national Civil Defense program says Little Rock possibly would be a target for any atomic attack.

Peterson told newsmen last night that because of this city's "industrial concentration" it might be prime mark for enemy bombers.

He said Arkansas' general role in the event of atomic war on America would be that of helping major cities which were attacked.

Peterson will outline the civil defense program to judges, mayors and city directors from throughout Arkansas here today.

North Carolina estimates that cotton farmers lost 25 million dollars to the boll weevil in that state in 1953.

Red Diplomat Chief Russian Spy in Japan
By JOHN RANDOLPH
TOKYO (A) — Lt. Col. Yuri A. Rastvorov was revealed today as Soviet Russia's chief Red spy in Japan and a youthful protégé of Lavrenti Beria, recently executed chief of the Soviet secret police.

Informed American sources said Rastvorov, who asked an American Army intelligence unit for political asylum Jan. 24, was trained on the "Japan desk" of a special Soviet Foreign Office section under direct control of Beria's MVD organization.

Once a personal courier for Beria himself, Rastvorov apparently was headed for a brilliant future in the Soviet secret service.

But, the source said, a growing admiration and "weakness" for Americans, possibly Beria's execution, and finally direct orders to return to Moscow sparked his decision to change sides.

His conversion, long and deliberate, sought by crack U. S. Army operatives, is called by observers here the most brilliant piece of American intelligence work published since the start of the cold war — and a blow at Soviet espionage in a key Far Eastern area.

Intelligence work is subterranean war, the source said. "This is a great victory that may be decisive in Japan. It is the intelligence equivalent of a Midway or a Normandy."

Rastvorov, reported yesterday to be cooperating with American agents at the big U. S. base on Okinawa, was described as a dashing, handsome Soviet spy who moved easily in Tokyo social circles and who cultivated Americans.

"He even ate and drank at American Army officers' clubs," the source said. Some of his hosts did not know him; they entertained. Some knew all too well.

It also was revealed that at the time Beria's execution, Dec. 23, Rastvorov made contact with American Army agents who shadowed him continually and sounded them out on changing sides.

Much as the Army wanted him, it moved cautiously until Rastvorov — apparently in panic at personally delivered orders to go home — called the agents on the telephone and asked them to protect him as a political refugee.

Legality of Butter Buying Is Challenged

By ROY CALVIN

WASHINGTON, (UP) — Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N. M.) today challenged the legality of government's high-price butter-buying program.

Pressure was mounting on Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson to do something, and fast, to put butter on American dinner tables at low prices. President Eisenhower told a news conference yesterday with considerable feeling that he wants butter prices cut.

Anderson, a former agriculture secretary, said he is seeking a legal opinion on whether the government can drop its support prices now instead of waiting until April 1. He said the present butter situation—tremendous surplus in government warehouses and 80-cent a pound retail prices—is "ridiculous."

Ideally that, Anderson said, "I doubt if the secretary has the authority to continue buying butter now at this high price." He quoted the law which specifies that butter and other dairy commodities shall be supported at not more than 90 per cent nor less than 75 per cent of the parity price, as the secretary determines necessary in order to assure an adequate supply.

Anderson said "I think a law means what it says — adequate supplies."

Benson established the present support levels—67 cents a pound, 80 per cent of parity—last April 1 and declared them effective for one year. He has said he doubts his conscience will let him keep them high beyond this April.

Chairman George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) and Sen. Edward J. Thye (R-Minn.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee asserted Benson is "ethically" and "morally" bound to keep the price at its present high level until April.

Aiken said Benson might be able "legally" to back down now, but he believes the secretary would not try it. But they said Benson has no legal authority to cut the price now.

If he cuts the support level to 75 per cent of parity, grocery store prices will drop to about 68 cents a pound.

Anderson said "I would like to see it tried at 75 per cent just for a while to see what would happen."

The government's butter hoard, which is held off the market will amount to 300,000,000 pounds or more by the end of March. Producers sell to the government because the support price is bigger than the wholesale market price and because they know lower prices are coming.

LITTLE ROCK — A Russian attack on the United States may come in the form of submarines that will launch atomic missiles in this country from several hundred miles away at sea, Civil Defense Director Val Peterson warned today.

Peterson was in Arkansas to help open the state's civil defense program at a meeting called by Gov. Charles Cherry.

The civil defense chief said a Soviet attack would take many forms, but that the Russians combined strength in submarines and atomic weapons is especially to be feared.

He also listed introduction of plant and animal disease through bacteriological warfare as another threat to be feared from the Russians. Chemical and psychological warfare to throw America into hysteria as a possible means of attack from our enemies also was mentioned.

Russian bombing of America probably would have from 60 to 75 cities as the principal targets, Peterson said. Bombing of these major cities would kill a large portion of the population, and also would deliver a crippling blow to our production lines, he predicted.

Peterson listed procrastination, wishful thinking and ignorance of modern warfare as major obstacles to overcome in the attempt to stir the American public out of its apathy toward civil defense.

"At least 75 per cent of the American people believe that our military could destroy Russian bombers before they could drop atomic bombs in this country," he said. "This is absolutely incorrect. Enough enemy bombers could get through to cause critical damage."

Gov. Cherry welcomed the more than 150 delegates to the meeting that launched the state's civil defense effort.

Committee Approves Alaska Statehood Bill
WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate Interior Committee today approved an Alaska statehood bill. The vote was 14-1.

The committee previously approved a Hawaiian statehood bill. Democrats are expected to make a determined effort to tie the two statehood bills together when the Hawaiian bill is debated in the Senate. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Cal.) has said the Hawaiian bill will be the Senate's next major business.

The administration has endorsed statehood for Hawaii, but has not supported legislation to grant statehood to Alaska during this session of Congress. In local elections, Hawaii usually votes Republican. Alaska votes Democratic.

Arkansas Gets Revenue Job
WASHINGTON (A) — The Internal Revenue Service announced today the appointment of Karl F. Martin, Tulsa, Okla., as assistant director of internal revenue at Oklahoma City.

Both in New Albany, Ind., Jan. 30, 1953, Martin entered the Internal Revenue Service as an agent at Stuttgart, Ark., in 1928. Two years later he was appointed group chief of the Tulsa District Internal Revenue Office.

He has served as the acting division chief at the Tulsa office.

Nation Pays Prices for Accidents

CHICAGO (A) — This is the tremendous price the nation paid for accidents in 1953.

Killed: 93,000. Injured: 9,600,000. The cost: $9,160,000,000.

The bill was added up today by the National Safety Council.

It noted that the 1953 accident death toll was 1,000 below the 1952 total. But it also noted that it was more than three times as great as the toll of American dead during the entire Korean War.

The motor vehicle held its place as the No. 1 accident killer. Traffic deaths numbered 38,300. That was a gain of 300 or 1 per cent over 1952.

The traffic toll was the third largest in history, exceeded only in 1937 and 1941.

Potentialities in home accidents numbered 28,000, a decline of $1,000. Accidental deaths at work were unchanged at 15,000.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said: "No civilized nation can long endure this tragic and disgraceful waste of manpower and resources from accidents that are avoidable."

There were some relatively bright spots in the otherwise grim array of statistics.

The 1953 death rate for accidents of all types was 60 per 100,000 population. That was the lowest on record.

Nevertheless, one out of every 10 persons in the United States suffered a disabling injury last year.

The 28,300 traffic deaths were recorded during a year when the number of vehicles on the road and the number of miles they traveled reached an all-time high.

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The passage of Scripture that we call "The Lord's Prayer" is found as it is commonly recited in our churches in Matthew 6:9-13; and, in an abbreviated form, in Luke 11:2-4.

In Matthew 6:12 the petition is rendered (in the Authorized Version) "forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors," while in verse 15 the reference is to "trespasses" and the forgiveness of trespasses.

This led to some confusion in the public use of the prayer, embarrassing to one like myself, as a minister-journalist conducting services in many different churches.

Methodist Churches use the word "trespasses," and, in general, churches that have their roots in the church of England conform to this practice. But a "Worship" for voluntary, but not obligatory use, has the word "debts."

The matter is not one of major importance. The meaning in each form of prayer is the same, as Matthew 6:12 and Matthew 6:14 make plain.

A more questionable matter is the entire omission from the Prayer of the closing words of doxology as in the Authorized Version of Matthew 6:13: "For Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever."

These words are omitted in the recently published translation in the REVISED STANDARD VERSION, where the prayer ends with the petition, "Deliver us from evil." A footnote mentions that the words of doxology are added by "other authorities some ancient."

The recent translators have evidently omitted the words of doxology because they were not in other ancient manuscripts that were considered more authoritative.

Regardless of this, of the new translation, the product of a representative group of Protestant scholars, which I doubt, it is my belief that both in private devotions and in public worship the Prayer in its full form, with the doxology, as in the Authorized (King James) version, will continue to be used.

Again, the matter is not one of great importance for the petitions in each case are the same. My own impression is that the recent translators would have been well advised to continue the Prayer as in St. Matthew's word's reserving for the footnote the

a Story of Religion

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — "When man understands, he no longer fears; when he no longer fears, he loves; when he loves, there is peace." This is the principle that will guide Lew Ayres on a trip to film the story of religions around the world. He will abandon his acting career for the global tour, which he will finance himself.

I visited him in his home on the peak of the Hollywood hills, where he leads an almost monastic life. Long one of the town's most serious thinkers, he talked earnestly of his mission.

"I'm leaving Feb. 21 by air for Japan," he explained. "I'll fly all the way because it would take me two years by boat to visit all the places I want to see. An old friend, Bob Duncan, will go along and help me with the cameras and recording equipment. It would be too much for one man."

"I'll spend about two weeks in each place, perhaps longer if I find I need more time to get the material. I hope to get a variety of things. In some places, I'll record the ritual and liturgy of the major religion; in others, I'll do interviews with church leaders. I hope to present the major religions of the world without controversy. There will be no attempt to make odious comparison."

"That's why I want to do this job on my own. If I accepted support from organizations or even the State Department, I couldn't remain as impartial. I am a Christian, but a layman. I belong to no particular church."

How did he decide on the trip? "You know how I have been interested for years in the brotherhood of man. There comes a time when you have to do something; it is not a mere vegetable. So I decided to make the move. I've had 25 good years in the movie business. The producers are not exactly breaking down my door with offers, although I still make a good living from pictures."

"I like acting. I always have. But I think it's time for me to do something positive to satisfy my great curiosity about life. I have looked into every religion. Now could like to help other people to learn."

What will he do with his films? "One thing is definite: I will take them on a lecture tour. I want to convey to people the personal contact I have had with these religions. I don't know how well it will go over, but I'm willing to talk in any place, from the biggest auditorium to a tent I might have to put up myself."

"Other things might come out of the films. There may be possibilities for presentation on a show like Omnibus or even a theatrical film like the March of Time. But that remains to be seen."

indication that some ancient authorities omitted "For Thine is the kingdom and the power, and the glory."

The point, however, does illustrate the high integrity with which these recent translators did their work and their zeal for honesty and accuracy, according to the evidence and their best judgment.

One question that might be raised is whether Jesus intended the Prayer to become, as it has, an exact liturgical form, or, rather, a model "after this manner" for all praying.

For the Prayer is what all prayer should be — not petitions for "things" or for personal benefits, but a lifting of the soul to the fulfilling of God's will, and His purpose in the gift of Christ to the world.

It takes time and practice to be able to apply makeup in a way that will truly highlight your best features and minimize defects. But the improvement you can make will be more than worth the effort. Using two or three shades of powder base, for example, can do wonders for the contours of the face. Our square-faced girl applies a dark base (lower center) along the jaw line. She'll lengthen her chin by touching it with a light base. Now (right) she stops to adjust earring before leaving for day. She wears her hair fluffed slightly over temples to balance width of jaws. Coat collar also helps to add illusion of length. The long-faced girl (upper center) applies lipstick here, adding a bit of fullness to lips that will help shorten chin. She has applied dark shadow to chin, light to sides of face. Her sweater's round collar (left) helps to shorten chin. Fluffed hair adds width.

DOROTHY DIX

Double Cheating

Dear Miss Dix: Two years ago I married a boy I had known for three years. He was in service and I moved near his camp so we could be together. Even then, I wasn't sure whether I had married him for love or sympathy. Shortly after I became pregnant, he went to Korea, and I returned to my folks. While my husband was away, I fell in love with another man, also married and with one child. We can't stay away from each other, though we don't want to break up our homes. I know definitely that I don't love my husband, but is it a mistake for me to stay in our home for the sake of our baby? I know that in any circumstances I shall continue to see the man I love. Won't you please make a suggestion? Mrs. O. E.

Answer: Just what sort of suggestion do you want? You're now doing quite a job of double cheating. Of course, there's only one right thing for you to do; in fact, it's not only the right thing, but also that which is wise, sensible and expedient. Continuing on your present course will cause you heartbreak, disillusionment, the loss of your child. What have you to balance these possibilities? A brief spell of stolen love, if it can be called love. As you see it in cold print, does it seem worthwhile.

Try Being a Good Wife

You have, by your own admission, a good husband. Why not at least give him the break of trying to be a good wife? Give yourself, say, six months to act the role of a conscientious wife and mother. Drop the melodramatic part of a lovesick heroine for at least that length of time. By the time your self-probation is over, I bet you'll have decided home, husband and baby are enough to fill your life.

You certainly have no guarantee your friend will break up his home, even if you abandon yours, and I'm sure it takes little imagination to foresee your future in that case. Minus husband and lover, you'll face a hostile world alone. Isn't it better to settle for the certainties of the present, even though they may not be as alluring as you'd like? The realities you have are certainly enough for most women.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm a girl of 17 and have had quite a few dates, but suddenly my mother doesn't seem to trust me. She appears to have a fear that something will happen to me. I try not to cause her to worry. Now, she won't trust me to be alone in the house with my boy friend, who is a very polite, considerate young man.

Answer: Your mother is right in not wishing you to be alone in the house with a boy. The situation, for one thing, could easily arouse ugly gossip. Mom's anxiety is quite usual for teenagers' parents. Looking back we can see how needless most of the worry was, but watching our youngsters grow up, and realizing the many pitfalls into which they may fall, is bound to make us concerned. Continue to show that you are trustworthy, and Mom will get over her worrying.

Dear Miss Dix: My husband is a fine, considerate person when sober, but when he has been drinking, of which he is guilty occasionally, he tells me he doesn't love me and wants a younger woman. Should I leave him so he can have what he wants?

Answer: Since these spells occur but seldom, you'd do better to stay. You wouldn't be happy at all if you left your man. I don't hold with the proverb, "In vino veritas." I think an overindulgence in alcohol is much more likely to produce false statements.

takes a guy with a real heart, give a dizzy blonde like me break like that, and don't say I don't know it." This kind of love talk makes sense to a girl.

3. Surprise him with little special wifely attentions, such as, for example, cutting the lawn for him, polishing the family car, or pumping up a flat tire. The very light of joy that lights up in your husband's weary face will more than repay you.

4. Take in washing. This will enable you to "earn" the extra money your husband needs to indulge in weekly poker games with the boys at his office. There's probably dozens of people right in your own neighborhood who would be glad to give their business to you instead of a professional laundress. One wife earned so much money this way her grateful husband bought her a second hand chine on their wedding anniversary, and now she can handle twice as much work. Their happy come-lift is the talk of the whole community.

5. Why tag along with the husband every time he goes on vacation? Why not let him go at least one vacation by himself each year and why not let him make a really carefree one? A wife who really cares for her husband's happiness, and who can earn enough in a few months to send her husband a nice vacation voyage to Bermuda. Think of the interesting things he will have to tell you when he returns. May him promise to bring you back a sea shell.

Any wife with a little imagination can probably think up dozens of other stimulating ways to pour oil on her marriage and win her husband's heart anew.

The big idea is to make the feel more important, and that you are in there pitching every moment to keep your romance alive. Remember, the more things a wife does for her husband, the more he feels he loves her herself alone.

to discuss price, payments and possibly possession.

General Teleradio, Inc., a subsidiary of General Tire and Rubber Co., recently offered $2 million dollars for the stations.

George S. Benson, president of Harding College at Seaford, N.C., owner of the stations, tentatively called the offer acceptable.

John Poor, attorney for Teleradio, represented the prospective purchaser at today's conference. Dr. Benson said Poor had come here to "carry through" with the purchase offer.

 al traffic safety award a year ago for going 355 consecutive days without a highway death, record ed about 900 non-fatal accidents

 The traffic department said the last death on city streets was on

MOLDING MINDS

Through good books the sages of the ages may speak to the children of this age. Good books are antidotes for juvenile delinquency and for adult delinquency. Good books increase our joys, soften our sorrows, ennoble our friendships, enlarge our ideals, refine our ambitions, guide our energies, feed our souls.
 They are companions in loneliness, friends in trouble, tools for work and guides in wayfaring. The church and the church library offer you books that will keep your boys from being crooks.
 Books help mold minds.
